

Change things about the “about” page because it’s more about just submitting. “No incentives” - Dr. Walton

Don’t include spouse and kids because they are not part of the rewards program

“For that page, does it send an email or just pop up on the page?”

“I think that having something like ‘please print out a copy’ would be useful”

“What will we get on our end when they submit? An email?”

- on our end, that would be hard

- it goes to a server, and we can pull it out and give it to you whenever you need

“We would need to put some information in there that tells people about the wait time between the server stuff... we don’t want them to come in the next day and assume we have that information”

“On the points screen (stats box), we probably need a points goal for every category”

Dave: We’ll change the “submit” button on the point entry to be more of a “next step” process.

Dave: the end goal is to have a calendar where you select a day and enter the points for each day.
